MESSAGE FROM OUR CO-LEADERS

Dear friends and supporters:

Many thanks for your continued support this past year! 2022 was a big year for The Insight Alliance. We started the year with a team of 3 full-time staff members and, by the end of 2022, we had 12 full-time and 2 part-time staff members. We also moved into our new office in the Lloyd District of Portland.

This past year also brought a deep loss for our community. In June, one of our team members and friends - Derrick Clark - was shot and killed by the police in Clackamas County. Derrick was a force for good and wanted to spark important change in our community. He is deeply loved and missed by all of us.

We are so humbled by all that we have experienced and learned this year. Through it all, we are even more committed to our mission of pointing people back to their innate resilience and wellbeing.

With lots of love and appreciation,

ANNA DEBENHAM
PROGRAM DIRECTOR & FOUNDER

LINDSAY JENSEN
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

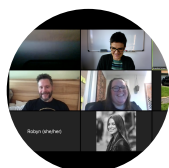

"It's like a self-help group, but you find the help within yourself. When you come to Insight you're really getting a second family whether you like it or not." - M. Murphy

MISSION & VISION

The Insight Alliance's mission is to transform the lives of adults and youth in prison and on parole by pointing them to their innate resilience and well-being. We do this through multiple programs that promote positive mental health, respond to harm in a way that is healing and liberating, and address the basic needs of individuals. The Insight Alliance serves over 500 adults and youth affected by incarceration every year, including those in prison and on parole. We help the most overlooked, underserved, and marginalized youth and adults in our community overcome the numerous access barriers that they face during incarceration, as well as when reentering the community after incarceration. Our overall vision is to build and support stronger and more equitable communities that are propelled by youth who are leading healthier, prison-free lives.

PROGRAMS

Our main services include: Insight to Wellbeing, a 10-week program offered in Oregon's prisons and through justice-related partner organizations that gives participants self-regulation skills through group dialogue and personal reflection; Re-entry Services for individuals going through reentry from prison, including intensive case management, peer mentorship, emergency funding, and the Good Neighbor Clothing closet; Moments of Insight, a monthly newsletter distributed to participants in prison, featuring stories, poems, and artwork from folks in prison and educating readers on various aspects of our philosophy and educational model; Restorative Roots, an innovative restorative justice program, offered in collaboration with Multnomah County, that provides an alternative to prosecution for transitional age youth (18-30) arrested for specific felony offenses; and transitional housing for individuals coming out of prison and pursuing educational opportunities.
